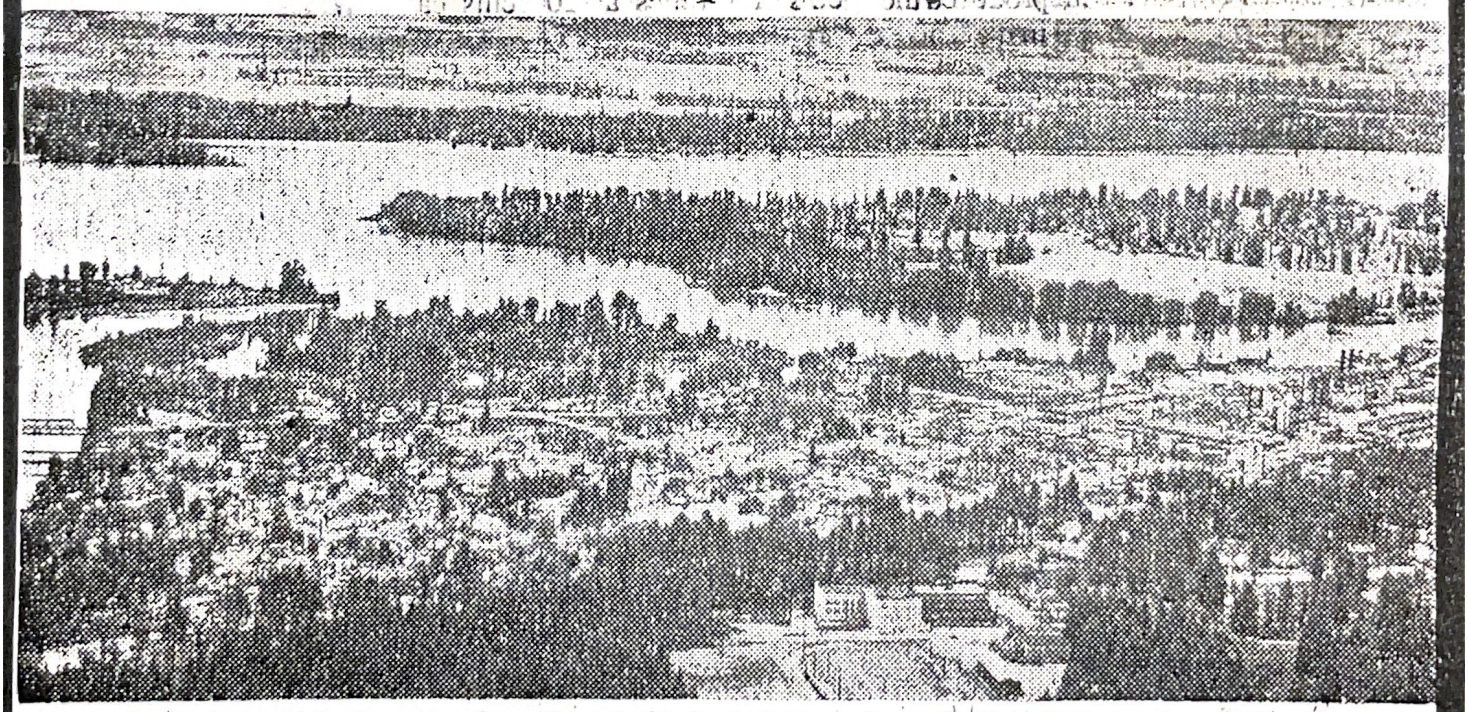
The Paper City



Camas is just too big to pose for a portrait, but shown above is the city's business district and a portion of its fine residential area. The Columbia river makes a beautiful background and furnishes an inspiring view from the hills surrounding our city. A portion of the Crown Zellerbach mill can be seen at the right of the picture.